3 of 3 review helpful Can't we all just get along By Colin P Conn The Emerald Greens is the perfect book for my needs Her comments about playing golf on a conveyor belt really struck home all of the sudden I wanted to avoid Ballybunion In large part the book met my needs and I used it to help me select the courses I wanted to play So put that in your hat if you're planning a trip The book definitely has value Emerald Greens is for golfers who like sightseeing and adventure and want their non-golfing partners and companions to have a good time too It gives detailed descriptions of charming courses of great character and scenic beauty many of them little known gems All can be played for less than 75 Some cost as little as 15 a day There are Husband and Wife bargain rates to be found as well It also explores the unique attractions in each area the best of Ireland About the Author Roisin McAuley has been a broadcaster and journalist for more than 30 years She has reported for the BBC from all over the world She loves Ireland and golf and combines both in Emerald Greens
